BUTLER COUNTY

Butler County, Butler County

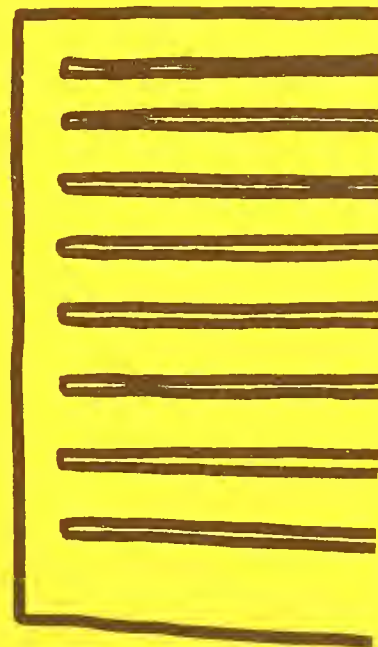

As 'the young and restless' of Butler County, Butler County 'search for tomorrow' in 'another world' under glare of 'the guiding light' 'all my children' discover that 'as the world turns' they have 'only one life to live' in these troublesome 'days of our lives.'

On another part of Butler County, Butler County campus we find 'friends and lovers' standing on the 'edge of night' discovering their 'love of life' as 'someset' slowly sinks on the campus leaving 'rich man, poor man' alike looking for his 'roots.'

Brickley Named

Jan Brickley, El Dorado sophomore, was elected Homecoming Queen by the student body for the 1976 football season. She was crowned at half time of the Hutchinson game on November 6.

Ms. Brickley was attended by Beverly Bickham and Cindy Johnson.

ADMINISTRATION

'The Guiding Light'

"I can sum up my feelings about the school year in one word, "successful," successful in terms of our student body. Your interest, enthusiasm and cooperation make our college really live. It has also been successful in terms of our board of trustees, and our faculty and staff, all working together to offer the best education and training available anywhere. It has also been successful in terms of our community, the support and personal involvement they are providing to make our programs and services meaningful to all."

— CARL HEINRICH

President Serves First Full Term

President Carl Heinrich completed his first full academic year as the top administrator of BCCC this spring.

Under his administration the college enjoyed a slight increase in enrollment while many colleges throughout the state suffered decreases in enrollment.

Dr. Heinrich has encouraged an open policy with students and joins them in many of their activities. He encouraged the reactivation of the Student Council and homecoming activities. The president also made himself available at open forums where he listened to the concerns of the students.

Dr. Heinrich hopes to go on record as having a totally "open" administration.

Administrators change

Ev. Kohls took over for the retiring Leonard McKinney as Registrar at the end of first semester. The Registrar oversees admissions and transcripts of all students.

David R. (Nubs) Nelson is Superintendent of Grounds & Buildings.

Jim Chamberlain is Director of Financial Affairs. He oversees all monies coming in and going out.

Ron Wilson Dean of Instruction, is in charge of all curriculum offered at BCCC. He is also director of all faculty personnel.

Ted Wischropp is the Director and Coordinator of the Outreach program.

Trustees make big decisions

All major decisions concerning BCCC must be made by the Board of Trustees.

The Board discuss such things as new programs, hiring of new faculty members, major purchases, and any physical changes or additions to the campus.

One of the major policies put into effect this year by the Trustees is the addition of a new carpentry program.

Library holds wealth

THE L. W. NIXON LIBRARY holds a wealth of information in its collection of books, magazines, and audio-visual aids such as films, film-strips, slides and records. Hugh Richardson, librarian, directs the operation which is unique in that it is the busiest operation on the campus with the least professional help. Richardson (2) is assisted by (1) Marie Waltman; (3) student help; (4) Rosemary Kelly. Not pictured are Ann Schaper, part time media consultant; and Patty Mc Dermeit, audio-visual assistant.

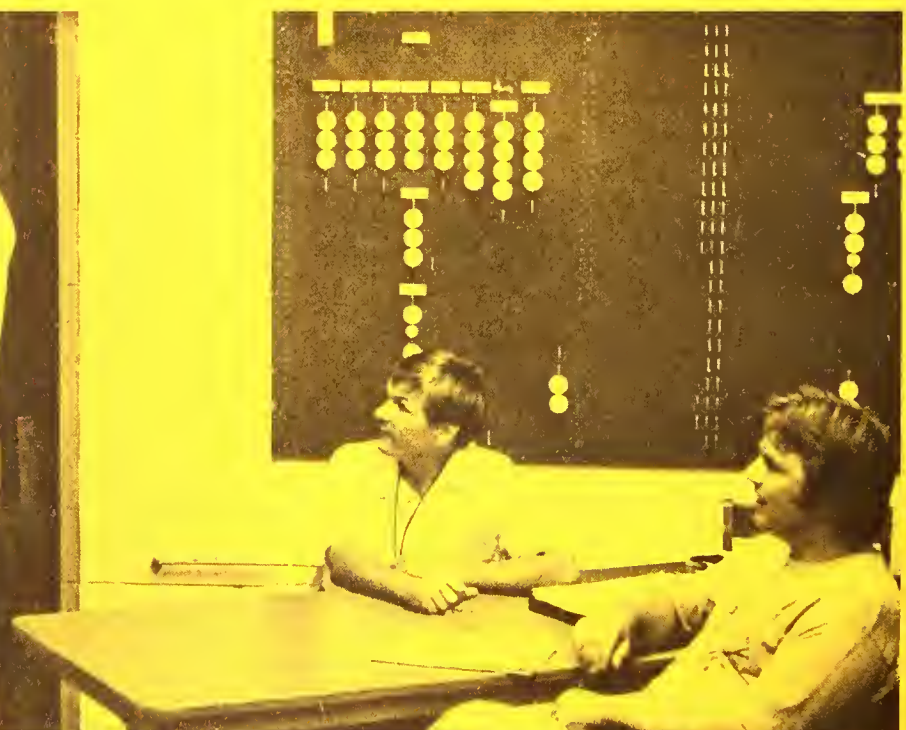

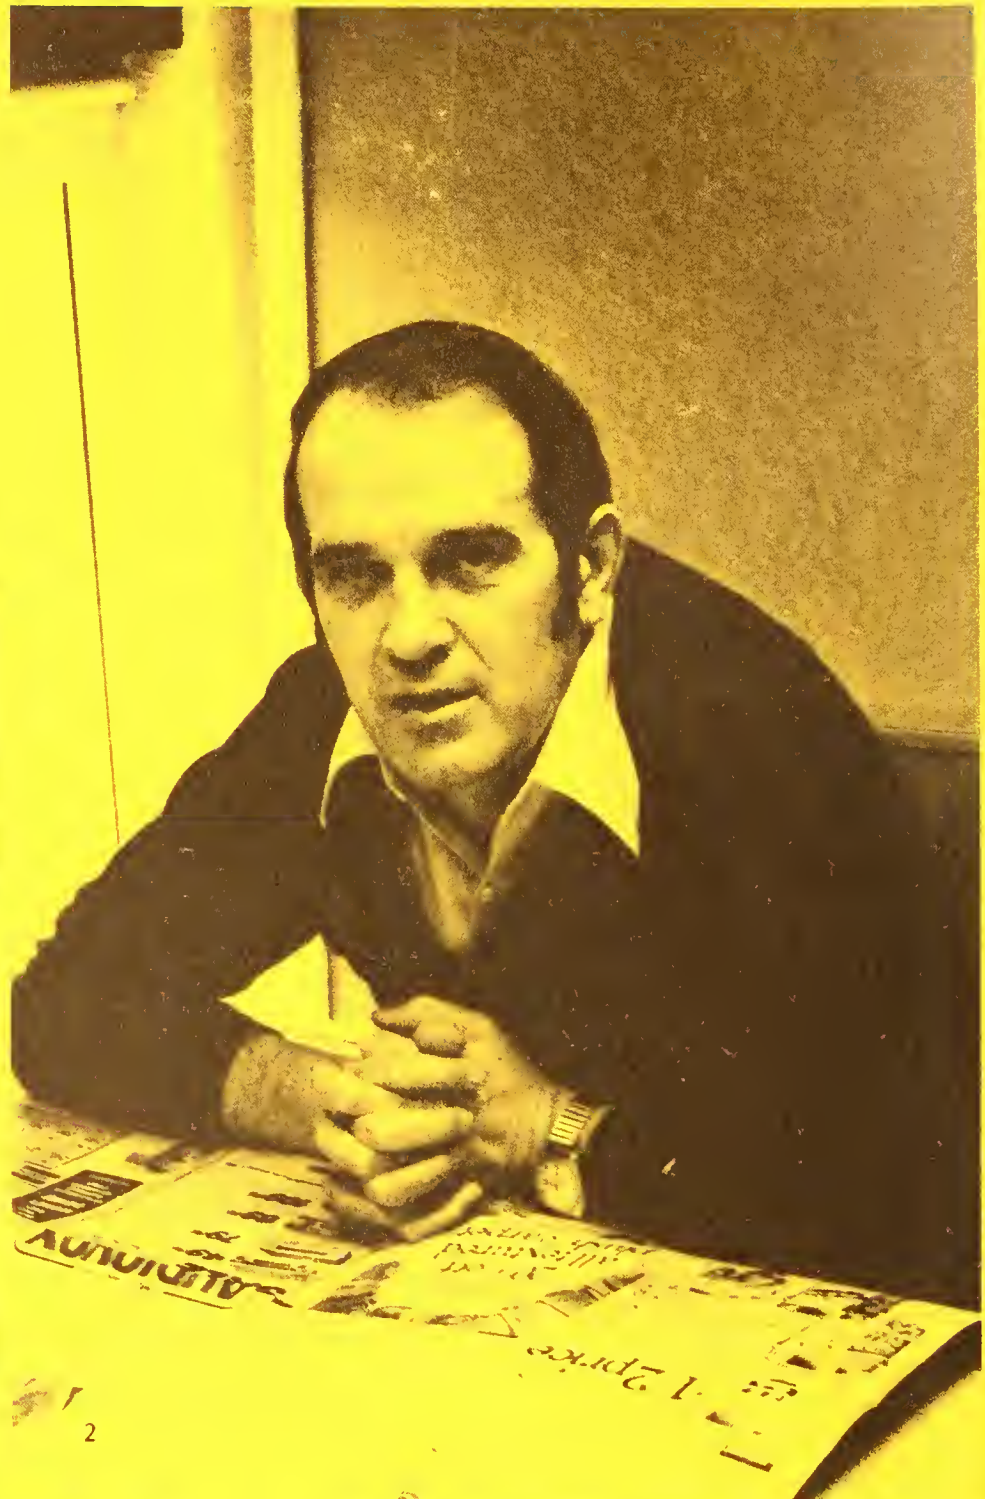

Goal: all students

THE COUNSELORS meet all students who are enrolled at least once during the students' school career. Some students visit the office many times. The staff includes: (1) Judy Strain, counselor; (2) Bill Trent, guidance director; (3) Laurina Hofen, work-study student, and Glenda Harmon, secretary to counseling; (4) Vic Bland, counseling and placement.

Coaches change

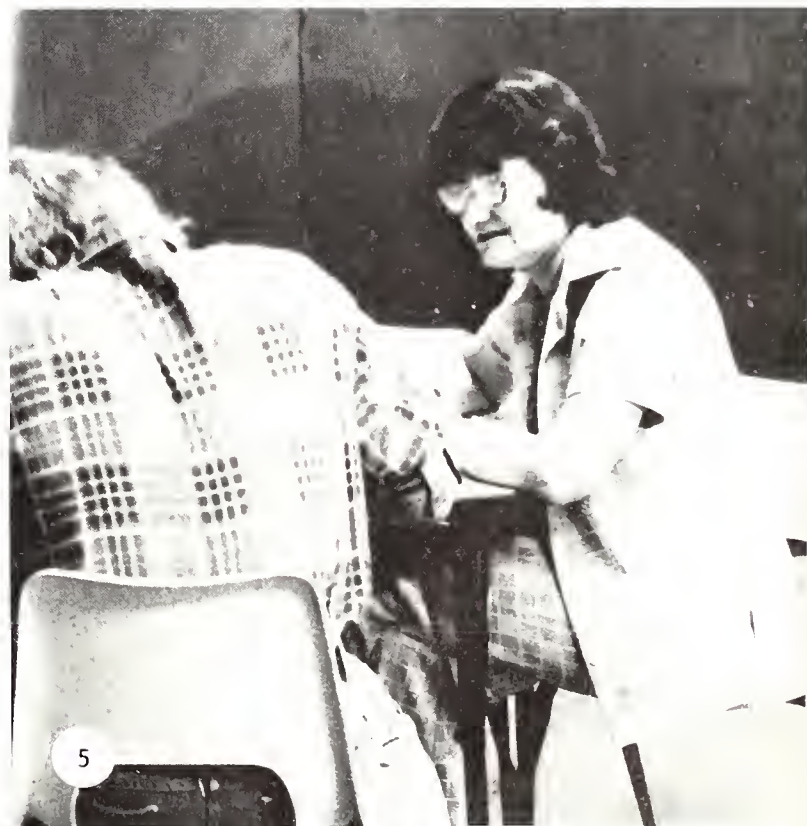

Coaches were in a new lineup this year with Curt Shipley taking over as Athletic Director. Dale Remsberg became head football coach. Jim Hooten and Paul Hoffman were added as assistant football coaches. Pictured are (1) Jeanette Malone, women's volleyball coach and physical education; (2) Shipley, basketball coach and Athletic Director; (3) Gene Arnold, assistant basketball coach and physical education; (4) Remsberg (STANDING); Hooten and Hoffman. Not pictured: Ollie Isom, cross country and acting head track coach; Ev Kohls, women's basketball coach.

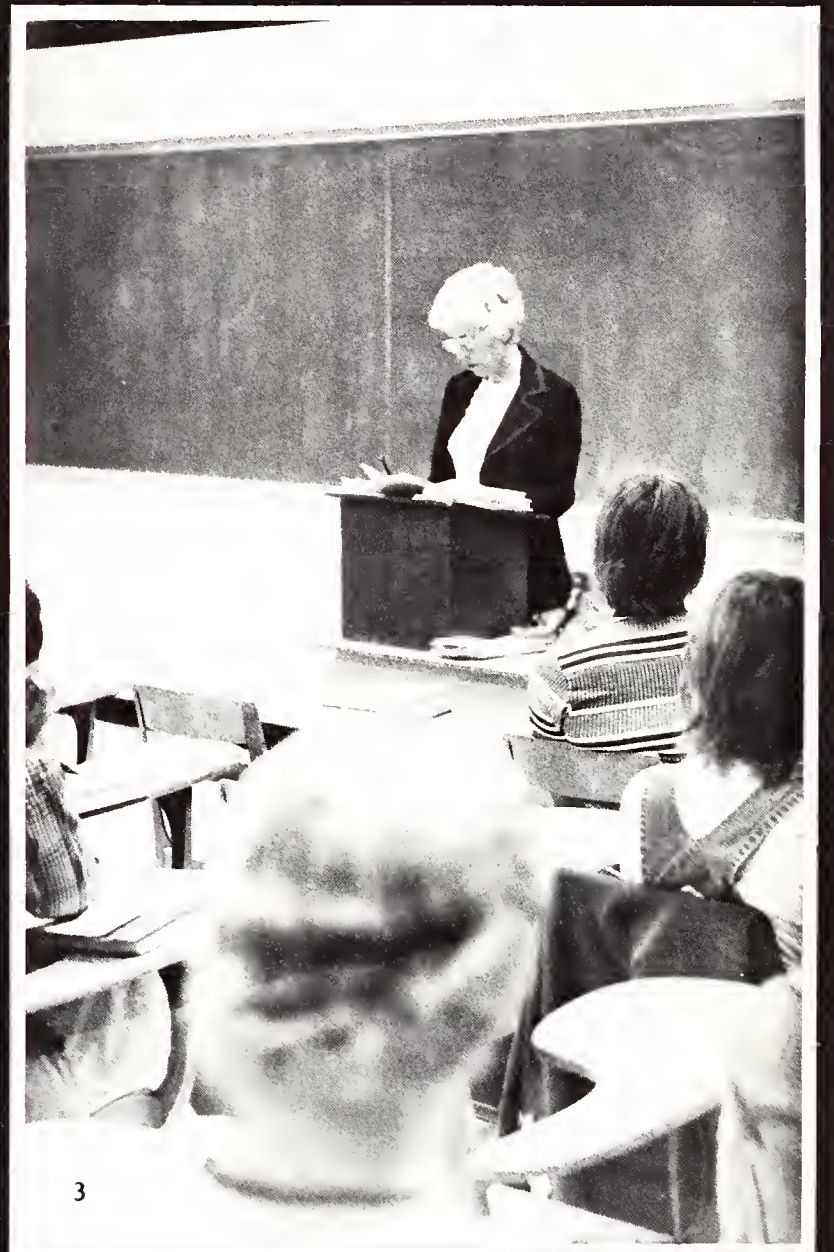

Many use center

THE CENTER FOR INDEPENDENT STUDY serves those students who desire individualized help with their studies. Students may utilize both personal help and audio-visual aids in the Center while progressing at their own rate. Staff members include (1) Mary Jo Grant, director of the Center; (2) Cordelia Holem, study aide; (3) Debra Melcher, secretary; (4) Cynthia Anderson, paraprofessional; (5) Kay Krause, paraprofessional.

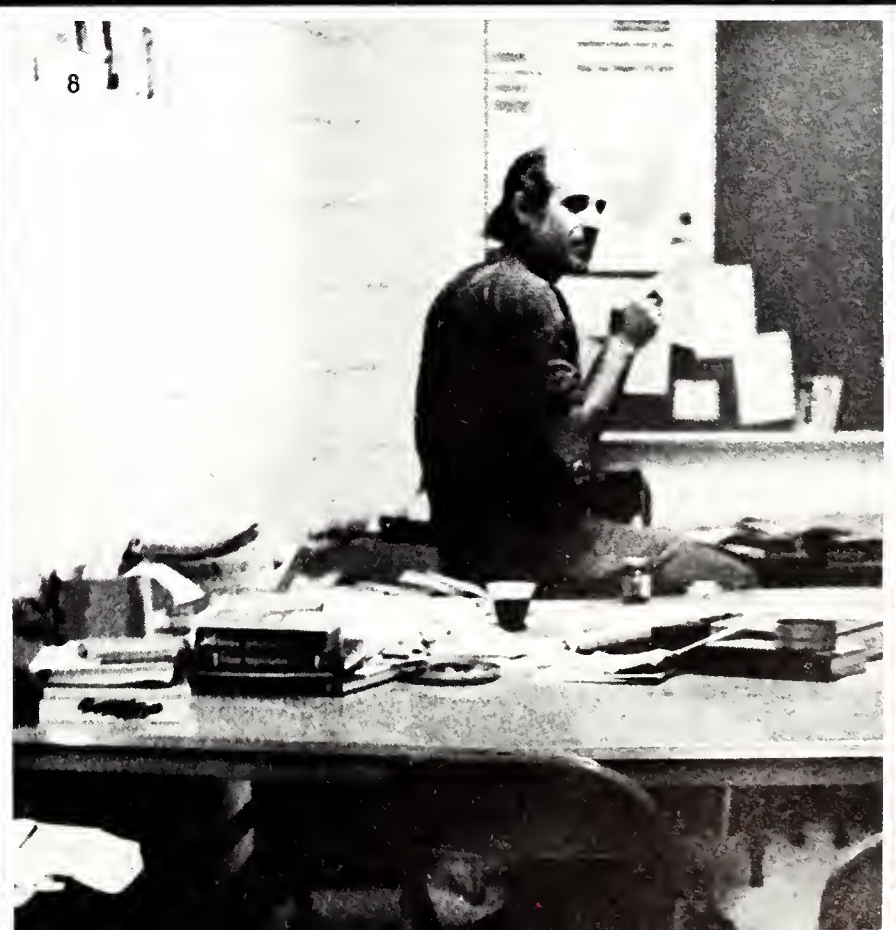

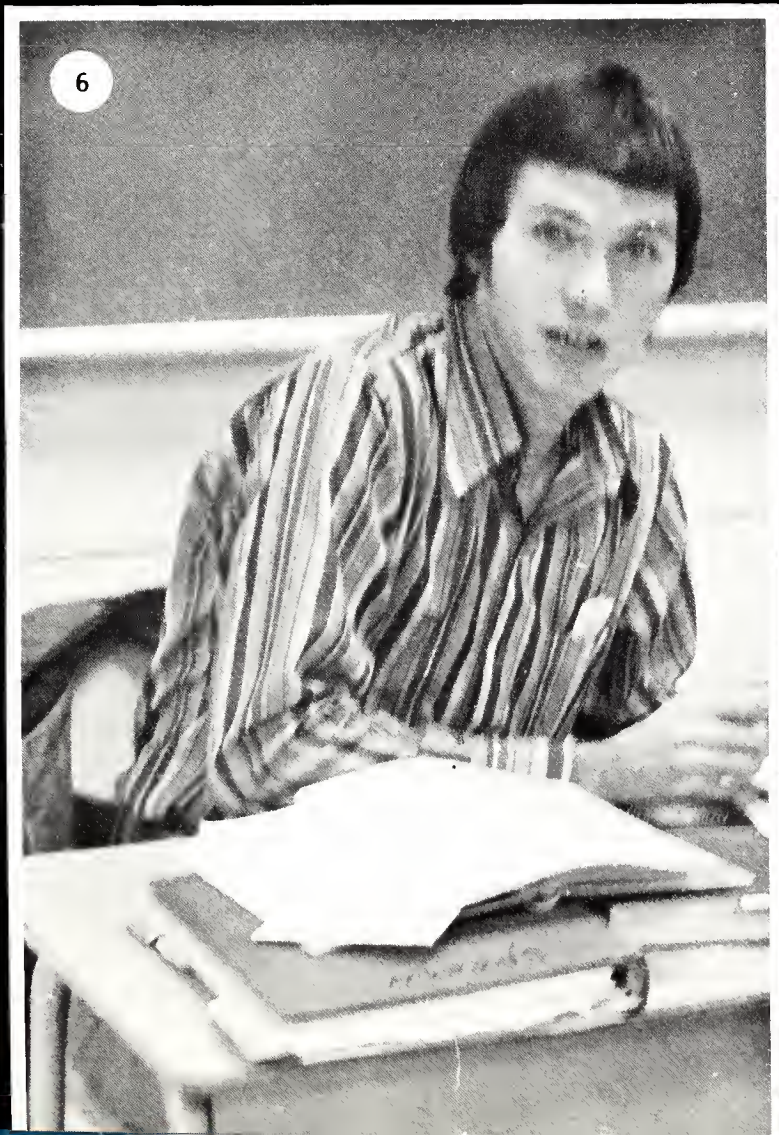

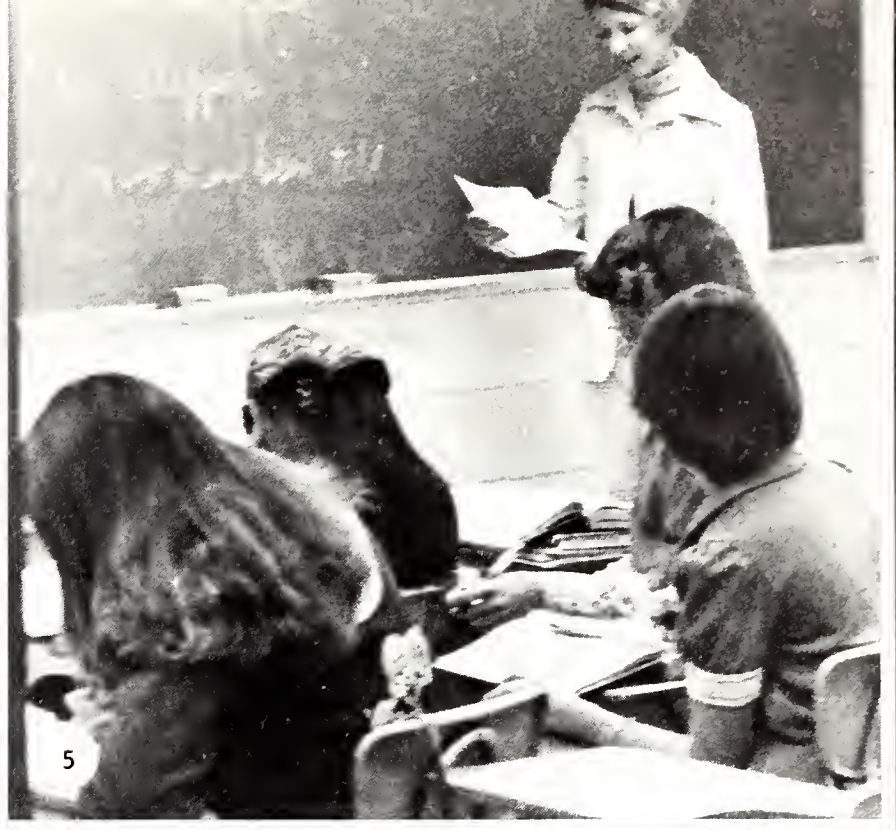

THE LANGUAGE ARTS division offers English composition, speech, American and British literature, (1) Don Toburen, division chairman and English; (2) Pat Lowrance, speech and English; (3) Jo Ann Rogers, English and yearbook; (4) David Longfellow, English; (5) Sue Beattie, English and business; (6) Larry Patton, theatre and speech; (7) Betty Prohodsky, English; (8) Bill Bidwell, journalism.

Offerings are many

THE BUSINESS DIVISION is one of the largest divisions at Butler County. It is made up of five sections: business administration, data processing, accounting, office education, and marketing. (1) Jay Brinkmeyer, data processing; (2) Darell Erikson, Business administration; (3) Herman Ogg, marketing; (4) Shirley Longfellow, office education; (5) Howard Clements, division chairman of business education; (6) David Panton, data processing; (7) Ronald Seager, office education; (8) Betty Tighe, office machines; (9) Randall Morehead, data processing.

Math-Science ranges

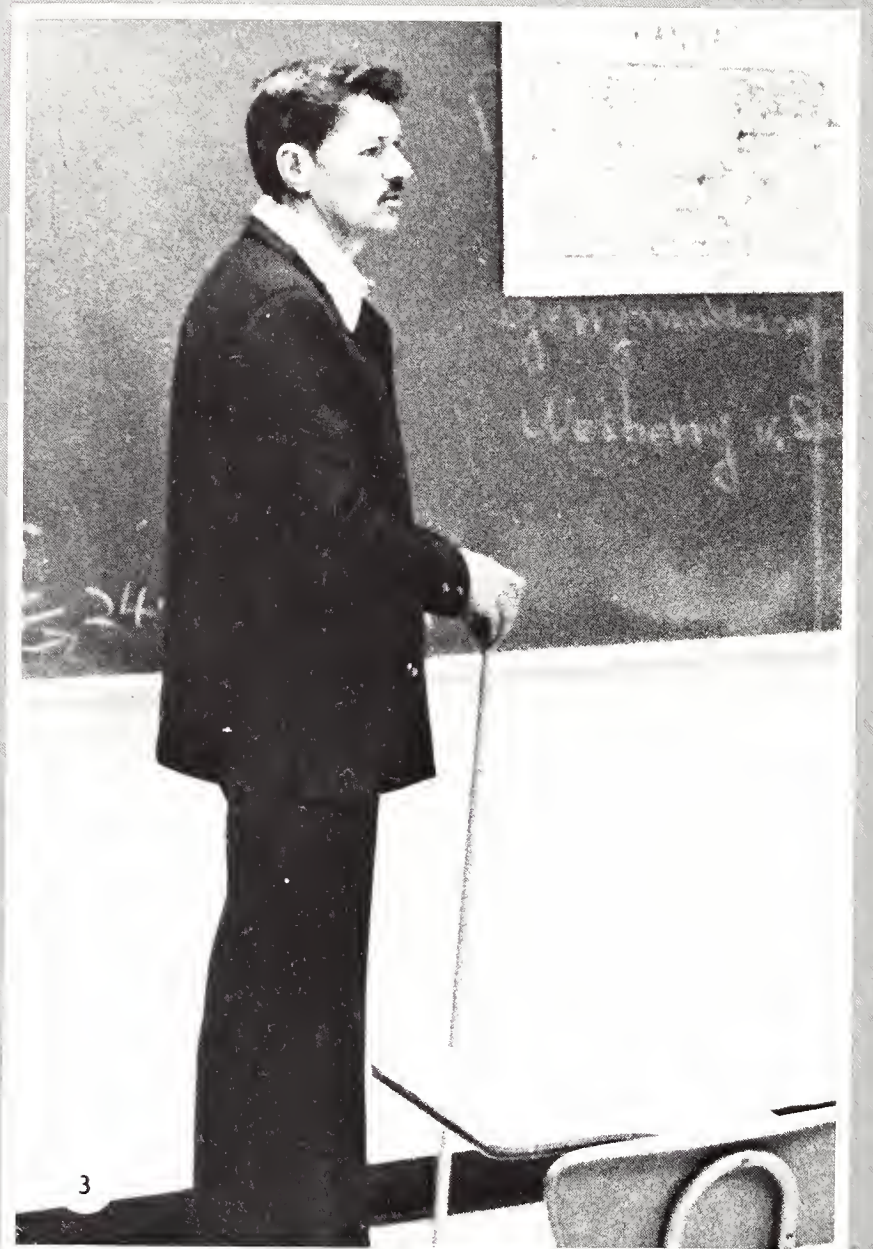

THE MATHEMATICS-SCIENCE division offers courses ranging from the metric system to calculus, from general science to human anatomy. Most students at BCCC find themselves enrolled in this division whether seeking graduation requirements or working on pre-professional courses. (1) Patricia Couger, mathematics; (2) Elmo Nash, mathematics; (3) Phil Theis, biological science; (4) Gayle Krause, division chairman, mathematics; (5) Wilfred Pettus, physical science; (6) Richard Gregory, mathematics, physical science; (7) Clyde Hiebert, physical science; (8) Charles Fuller, biological science.

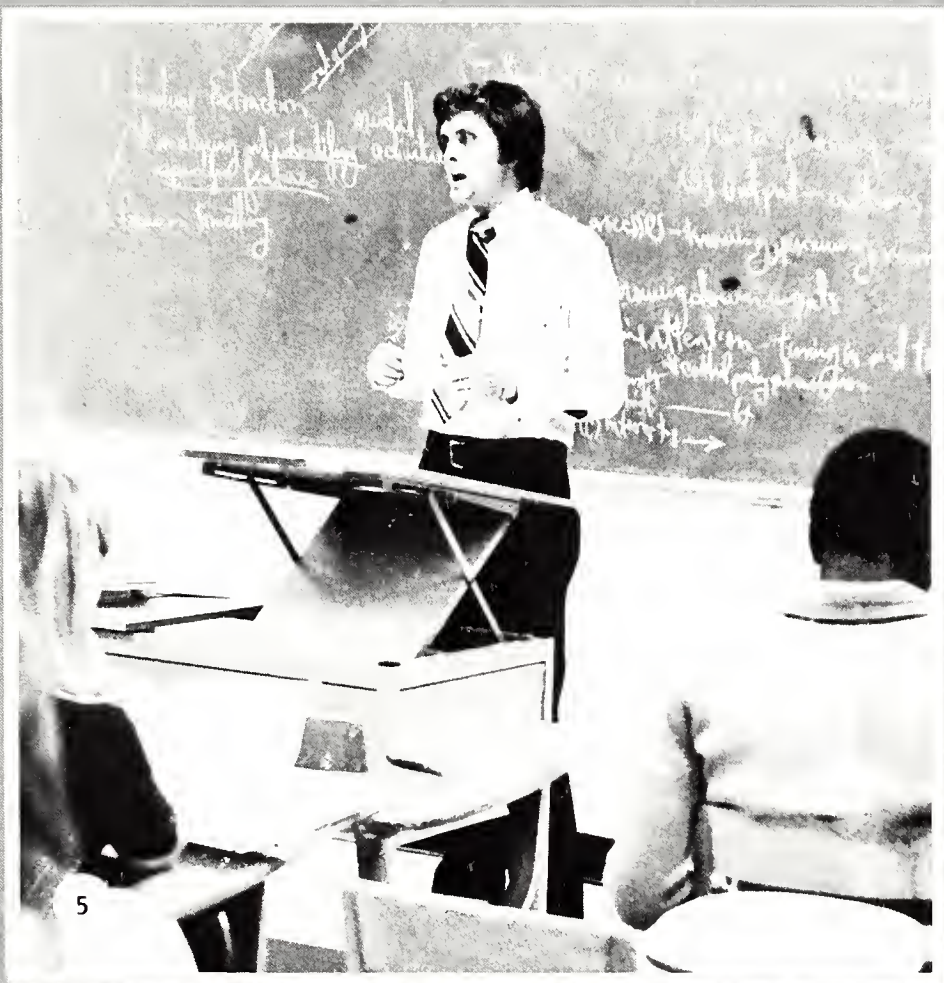

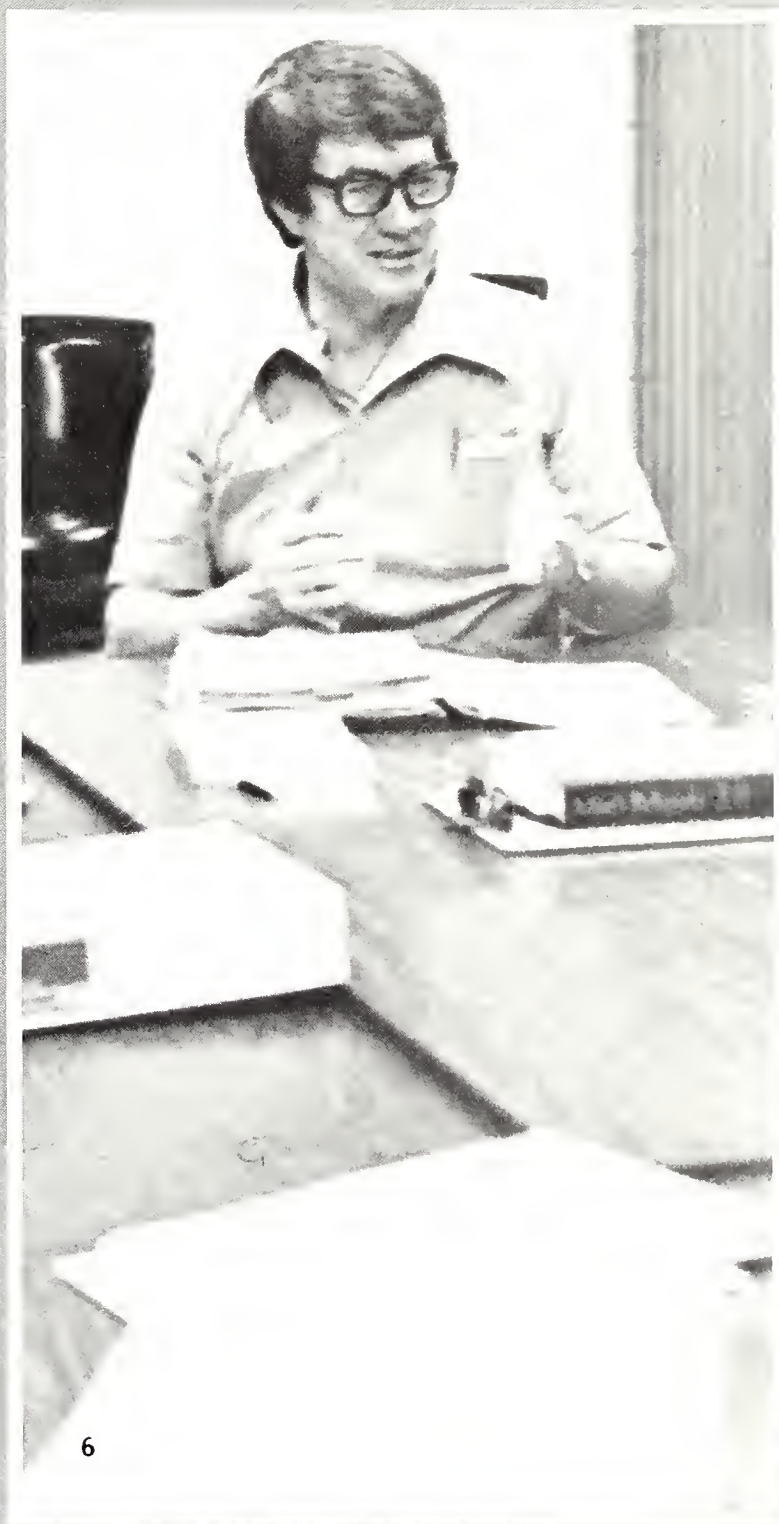

Social science varied

THE SOCIAL SCIENCE division includes many subjects such as sociology, philosophy, psychology, religion, history, women and society, and other related topics. (1) Oliver Isom, division chairman, history and economics; (2) John Lay, sociology and minority studies; (3) Edward Ross, government and political science; (4) Judy Strain, psychology and counseling; (5) Felix Adams, psychology; (6) Herbert Miller, philosophy and religion.

Arts offer culture

THE FINE ARTS division represents the cultural side of life on the campus. Courses are offered in drama, vocal and instrumental music, and all aspects of creative art. Faculty members are: (1) Robert Chism, art division chairman; (2) Robert Anderson, vocal and instrumental music; (3) Marjorie Marsh, music; (4) Lynn Havel, art.

Nursing program progresses

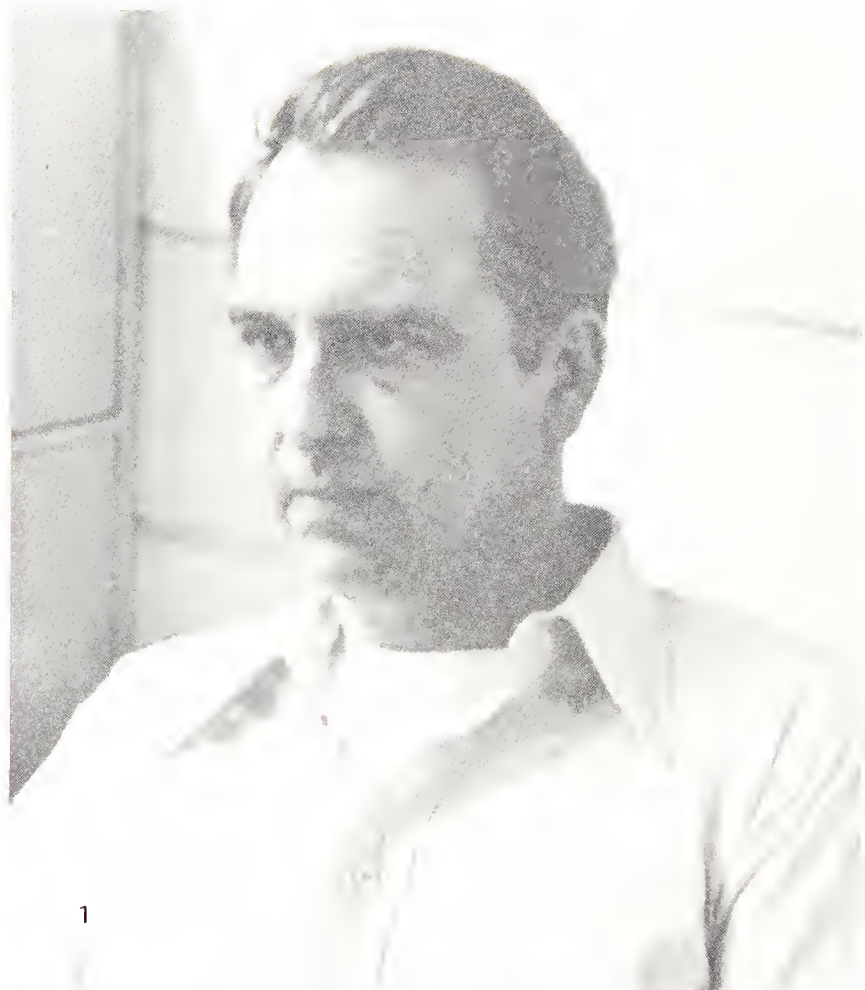

The first graduating class of nurses since the department's reorganization two years ago is slated to receive the associate degree this year. In addition to the training the nursing candidates received at BCCC, the students also took clinic in area hospitals. The campus instructional staff includes Dolores Gwinup (nursing director), Marilyn Schulze, and Ruth Frantz. Part time instructors include Deborah Hinnen and Jonetta Kelly.

Vo-tech offered

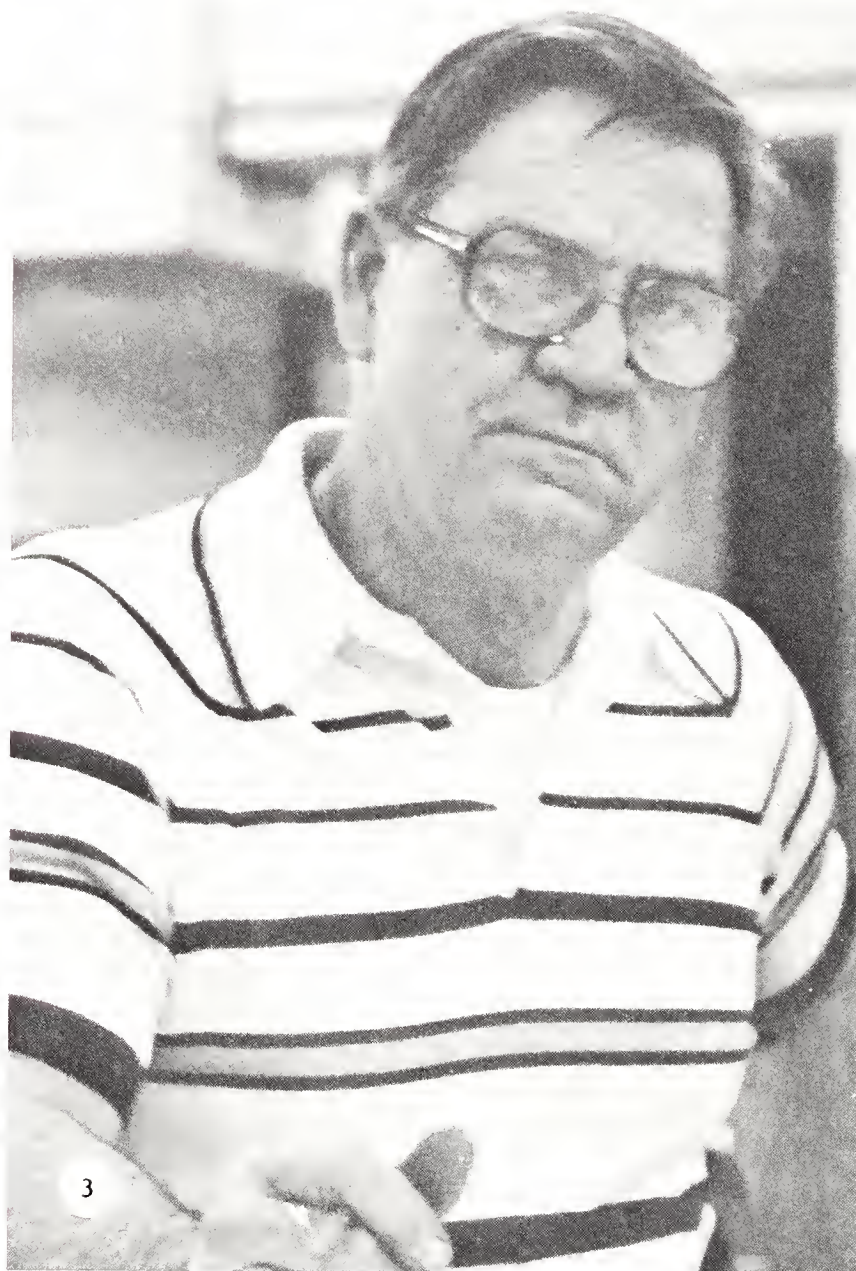

THE INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION division at Butler County gives students both classroom and practical experience. In addition to the regularly enrolled college students, other students are enrolled in federally funded vocational programs also offered in the division. Industrial education has faculty members teaching courses in auto mechanics, auto body, welding and electronics. Pictured are (1) John Anderson, automotive technology; (2) Kenneth Goering, auto body; (3) Arden Good, auto body; (4) Dennis Martens, machine technology; (5) Burl Arbogast, electronics; (6) Edward Fitzpatrick, welding; (7) Don Mangles, division chairman, automotive technology.

A GOOD SECRETARY is behind every good administrator, and this good secretary plays a very important part in the day to day operations of BCCC's campus. The average secretary on campus is neat, trim, pleasant, knowledgeable, and female. Pictured are (1) Nancy Collins, secretary to the Athletic Department; (2) Diane Osborn, receptionist and PBX operator; (3) Wanda Dillmon, secretary to the President; (4) Mary Conrad, secretary to Maintenance Department; (5) Pat Place, secretary to Dean of Students; (6) Dorothy Shaw, financial office; (7) Emma Leonard, machines operator; (8) Gladys Snodgrass, Registrar's office; (9) Kim Cool, Registrar's office; (10) Barbara Coonrod, secretary, Dean of Instruction; (11) Jean Ann Dunham, financial office. (Other secretaries are pictured elsewhere in the book.)

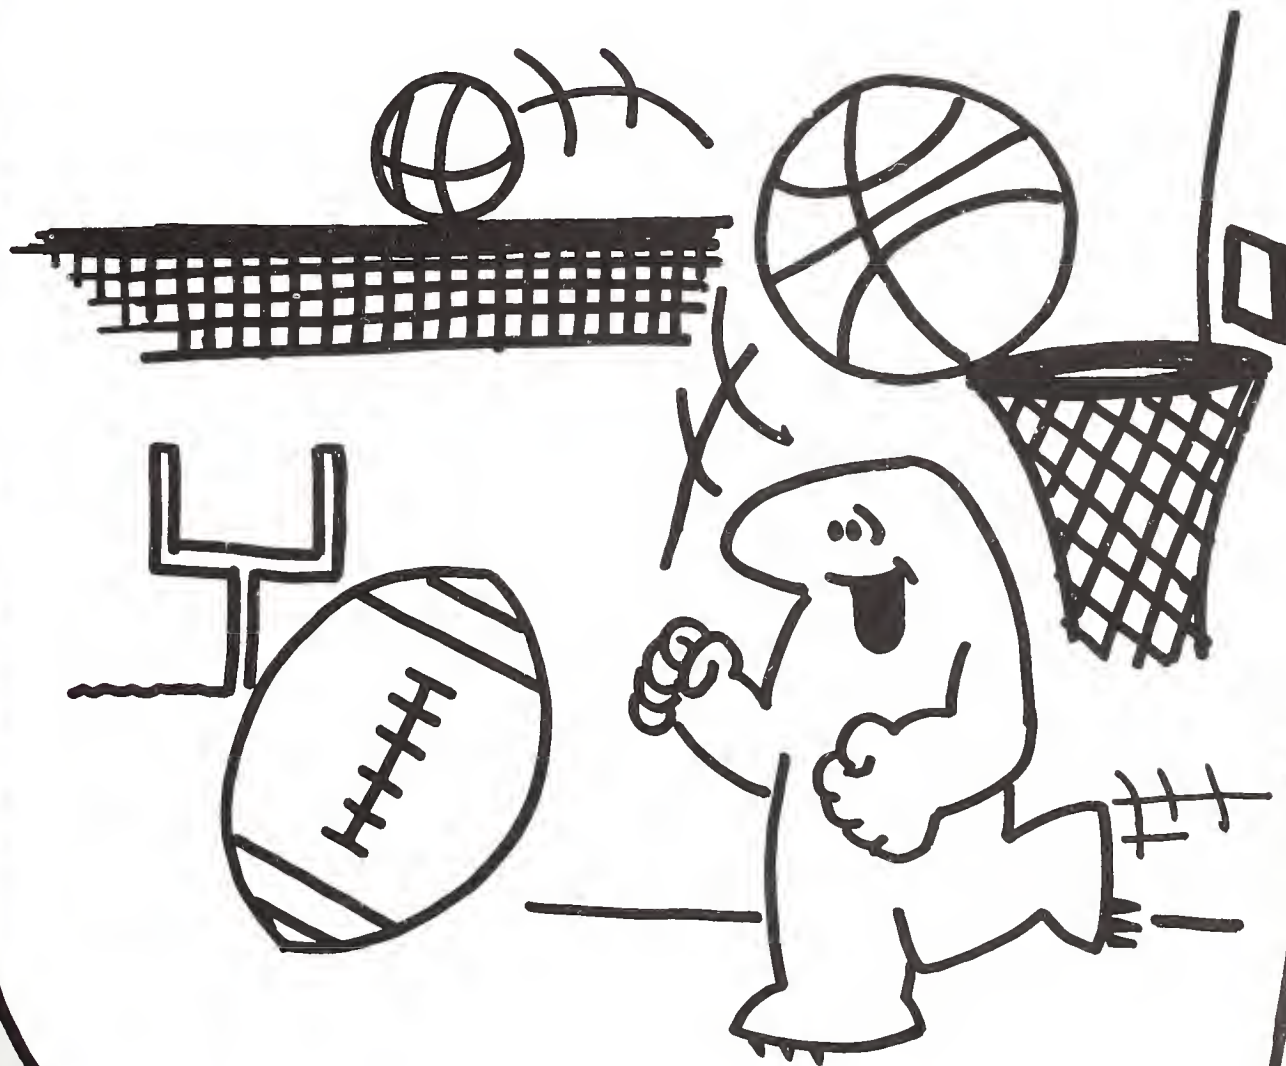

Maintenance . . . always

THE MAINTENANCE DEPARTMENT has a 365 day a year job keeping the buildings, grounds, and campus automobiles in good order. "Nubs" Nelson is superintendent of buildings and grounds. Pictured are (2) Nelson; (3) Jose Pinales, custodian; (4) Duane Dauber, mechanic and plumber and Roy Seymour, coordinator of custodial services; (5) Herman Tisch, custodian. WOMEN GRIZZLIES who suited up for volleyball include (FRONT ROW, L. TO R.) Rita Love, Tanya Eastin, Debbie Prewitt, Cynthia Price, Renee Pearson, Rose Robidou, Jan Cole, Barbara Griffen, Rilinde Harris. SECOND ROW, Cindy

The women's volleyball team finished the season with 14 wins and 15 losses. The team went into regionals at Pratt with a 14-14 record.

Tournaments in which the team participated included Hutchinson, Pratt, and St. John's at Winfield. The female Grizzlies tied for second place at the Hutchinson tournament.

Butler hosted a quadrangular meet and one match on the home court.

Early in the season the women had a record of six wins and no losses but they "went into a slump at mid-season."

X-COUNTRY

Coach Ollie Isom's cross country team, although plagued by injuries, sickness and bad luck, had a respectable season with first place finishes at the Allen County and Haskell Invitionals and a second place at Region VI.

Fred Torneden and John Lara led the squad with either one or the other running first man throughout the season. Torneden, while competing against 250 runners at the W.S.U. Gold Classic, placed eleventh overall while winning the juco division. Lara ran 25:13 for five miles when he took second at the Butler County Invitational.

The Butler football team, in Dale Remsberg's first season as head coach, had its ups and downs but finished with a respectable season of 4-6.

The Grizzlies, who finished 3-5 in League play, won some big games over Ft. Scott and Independence but bowed to some lesser teams. The Coffeyville Red Ravens took the League for the second straight year.

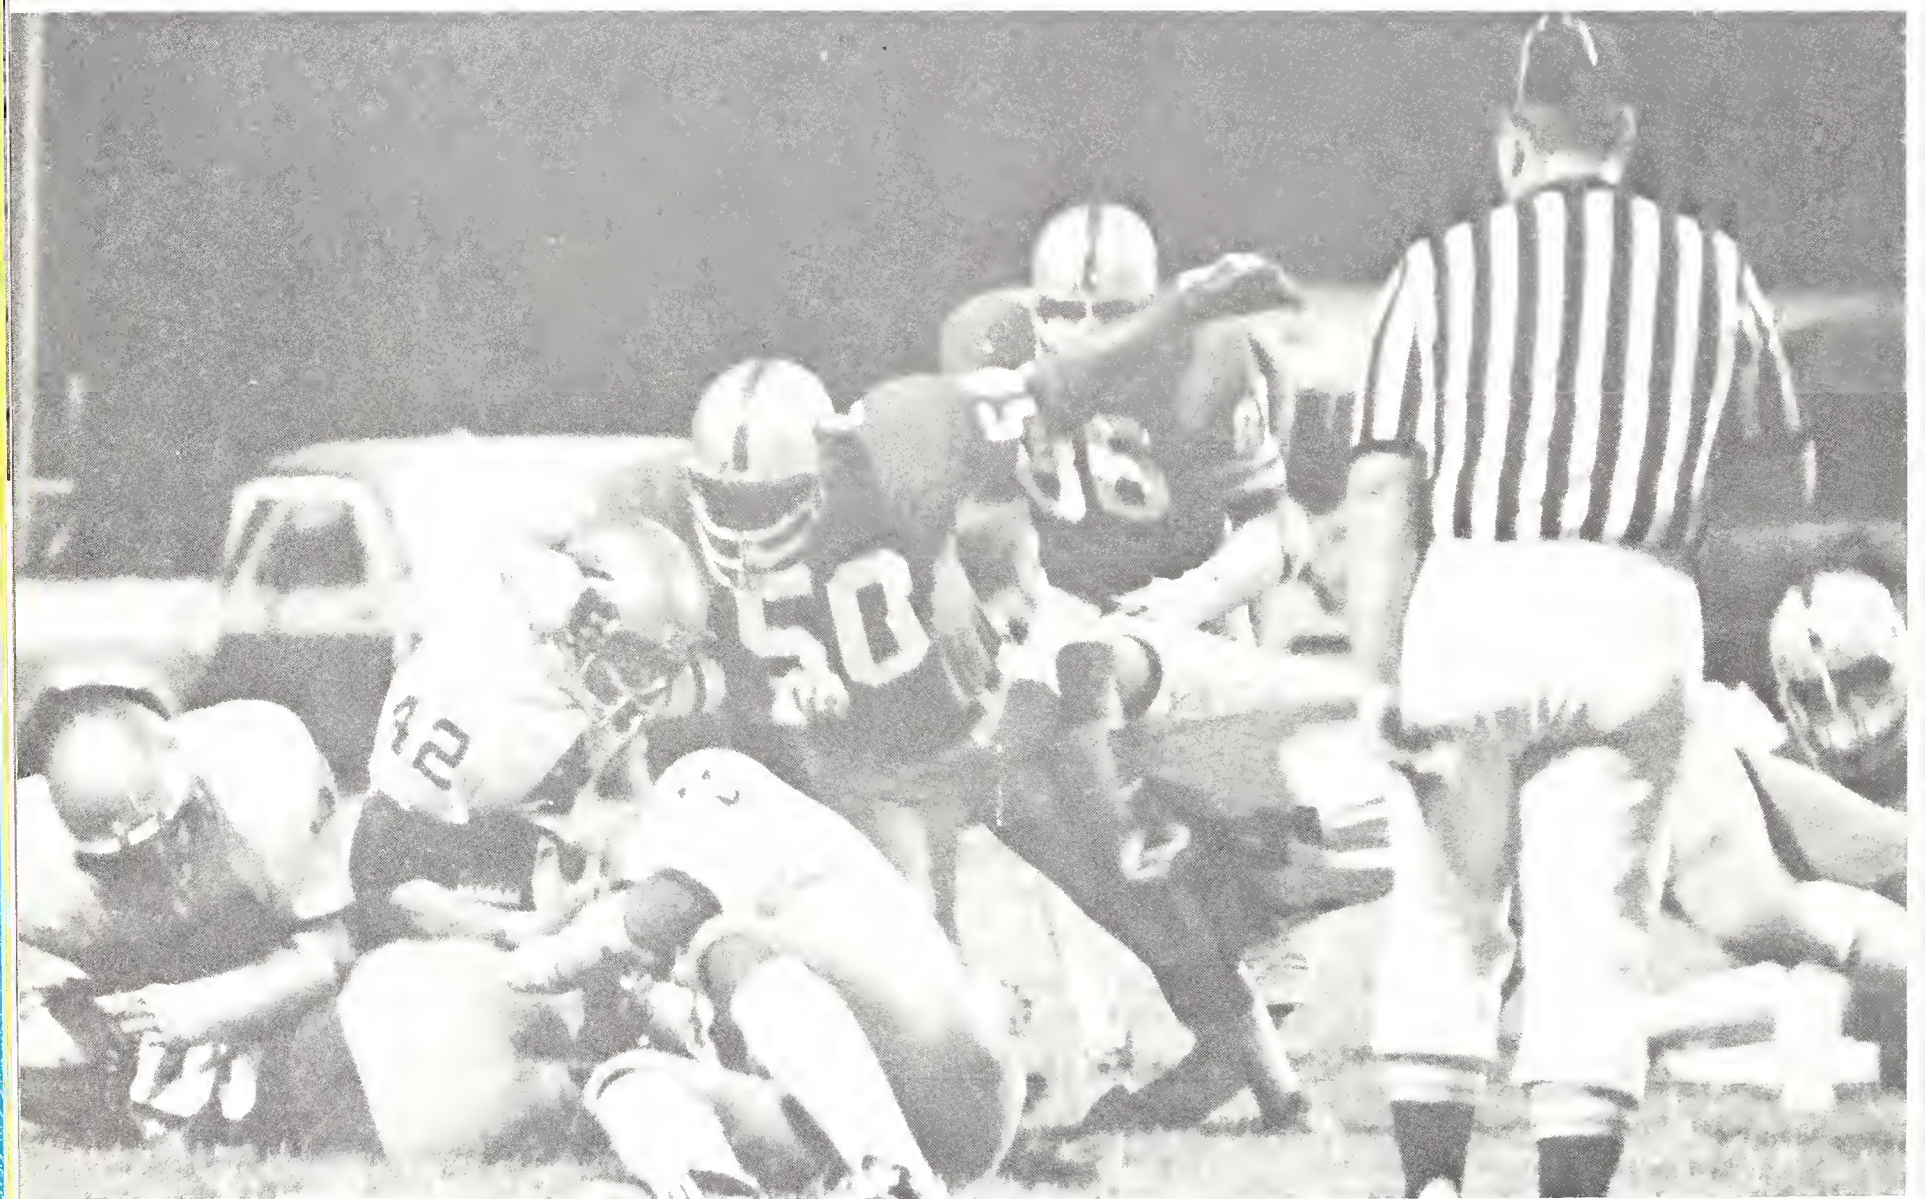

Butler County did some damage to some teams who had the Jayhawk League title in sight since the League was undecided until the final game between Independence and Coffeyville.

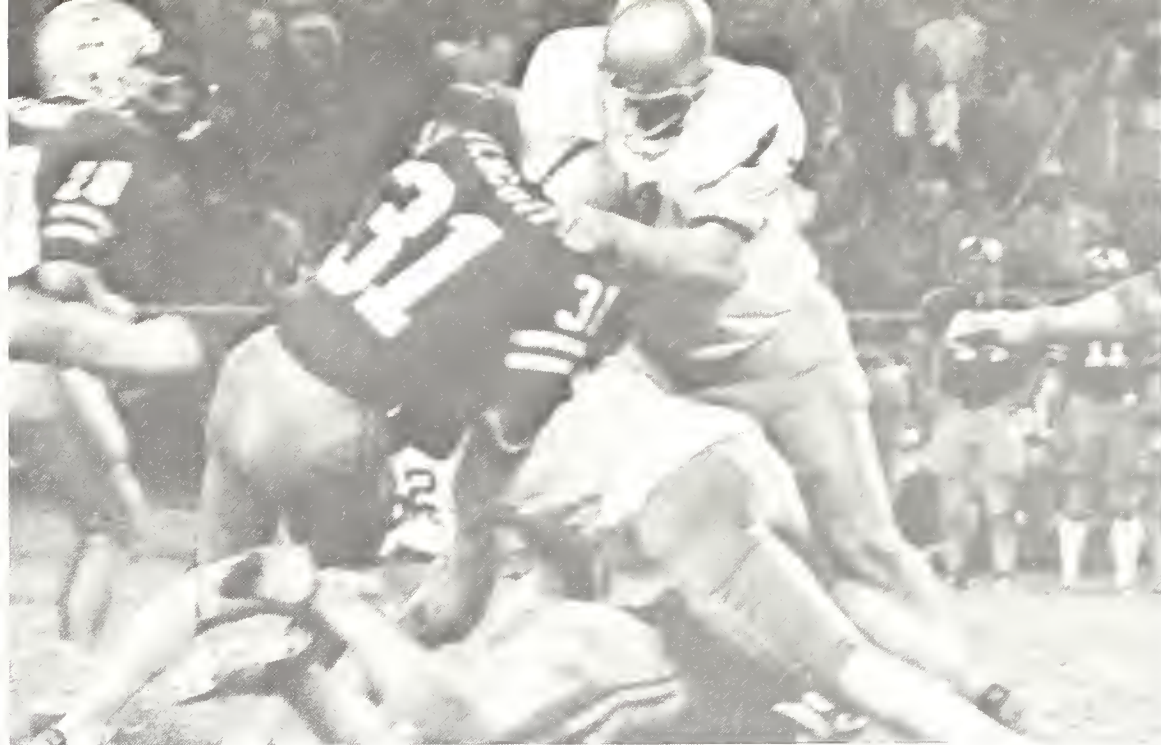

The Grizzlies had three men named to the All-League team: Hiram Wright, offensive back; Reggie Pope, offensive guard; Robbie Butler, defensive back. Bob Stallbaumer was named to the second team as a tight end.

Women Grizzlies win tournament

Returning for its second season in intercollegiate competition was the BCCC women's basketball team.

The female cagers finished first in the Allen County Tournament with a third place finish in the Cloud County Tournament. Two-thirds of the way through the season (book press time) the women's team stood with a 6-7 record.

Although the team was hurt by injuries, Coach Ev Kohls said that the women played extremely well.

Two of the most decisive wins included a 69-46 victory over Southeast Nebraska and a 59 to 49 win over Allen County.

Dana Jordon, Lisa Johnson, Rilinda Harris, Barb Griffin, Debbie Prewitt, Birget Koester, Marilyn Ragan, Vicki Harpich, Diane Marsh, Rose Robidou.

BASKETBALL

The Grizzly basketball team lost a lot of close ones this season but still showed some bright spots with team power by defeating Garden City 84-55, Cloud County 98-85, and Seward County 74-72. BCCC also took second in its own invitational tournament.

The Bears who had a hard time holding a lead all season played in quite a few overtime and double overtime games, often losing by a small point margin.

The Grizzlies were paced this season by All Conference sophomore Robert Cox from Camden, N.J. Cox lead the league in scoring and was sixth in rebounding. Cox was nominated for All-American, the first player Coach Curt Shipley has nominated since taking over the head coaching job.

Three-quarters through the season (book press time) the Grizzlies stood at 8 wins and 13 losses.

CHEERLEADERS

Spirit was produced for the Grizzlies by the hard work of the cheerleading squad. The cheerleaders generated enthusiasm for all athletic competitive events these past seasons both at home and on the road. A pep band was backing up the group.

The Honeybears drill team provided entertainment by performing precise drill routines at the home football and basketball games. The drill team also participated in parades at El Dorado, Augusta and Arkansas City.

DECA gives service

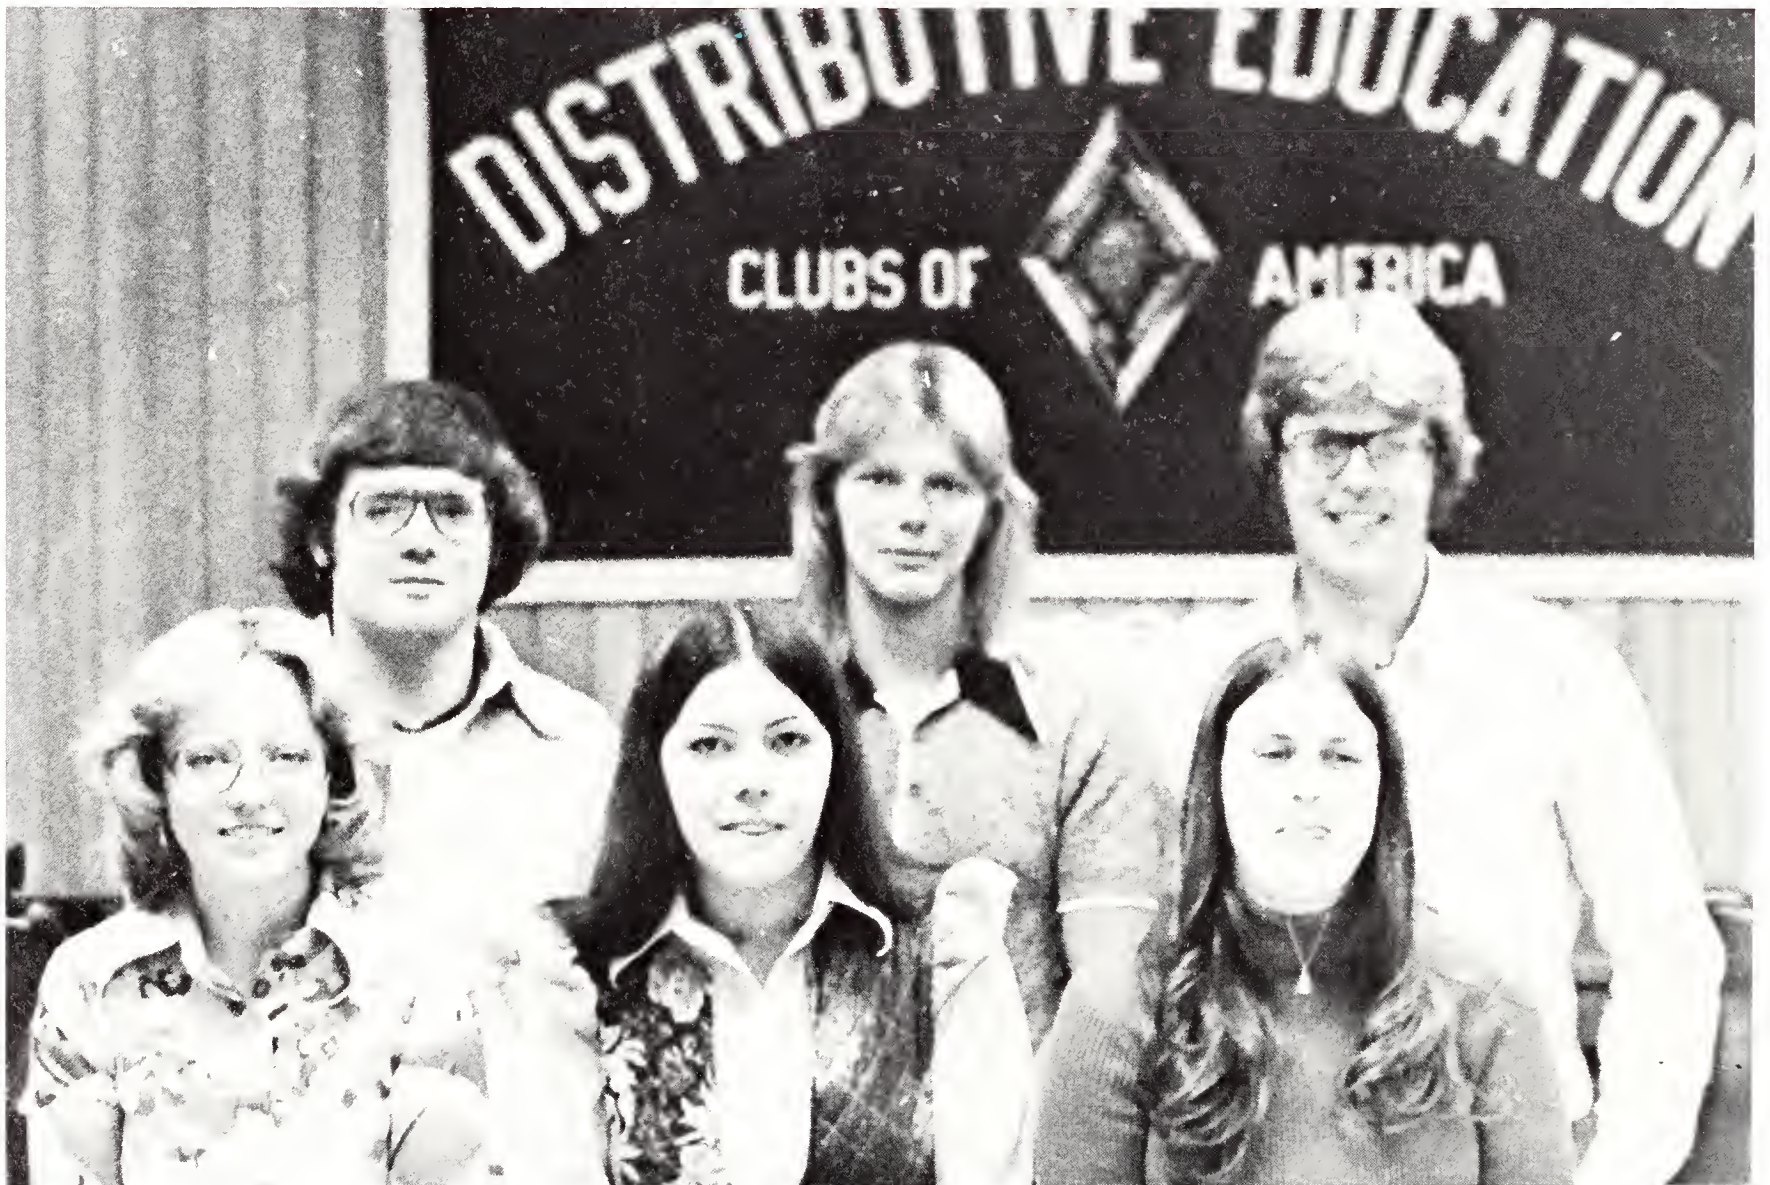

Members of DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) at BCCC began a marketing improvement research project this year in Augusta for the Chamber of Commerce there with great success. Dr. Herman Ogg is the director of the marketing technology program and DECA sponsor.

DECA sponsored the Muscular Dystrophy marathon dance on the campus which resulted in raising $500 in pledges for the fund.

DECA was host also to the annual Career development Conference and Contest in the spring for post secondary schools in Kansas.

CRAIG HAMILTON and Charles Melsoni display the trophies they won for receiving the most pledges for the Muscular Dystrophy Dance-A-Thon sponsored by the DECA group on campus/. Melsoni won first prize, and Hamilton second place.

Six finalists for Basketball Homecoming King and Queen were named Tuesday after two days of voting on 24 candidates.

They are, Joan Allison, Robert Cox, Billy Giesen, Steve Morgan and Debbie Prewitt, and what has been called the "Stuco" under the stairs at Butler. The rally was a great success because of student turnout.

The pep rally featured the Butler County Community College cheerleaders and members of Stuco. The cheerleaders provided the yelling and Stuco entertained the onlookers with a skit with several jokes from the football and cross-country program.

past couple of days. Coach Olson is no way without our team. Without them, we wouldn't be a team."

Starting Nov. 1, Butler County is celebrating 'Spirit Week' which concludes Nov. 6 with a football game. Spirit Week will involve a different slogan for each day of the week, in order to generate school enthusiasm during Homecoming, according to Cindy Price, a cheerleader.

The slogans for each day are: Monday — Stomp 'em Day: everyone wears any type of boots; Tuesday — Overall Day: wear overalls; Wednesday — 50s Day: dress in style of 1950s; Thursday — Hats Off to the Grizzlies Day: wear any hat; Friday — Purple & Gold Day:

Farewell to Butch

Butch no longer roams the campus as if he owned it. Butch, the campus dog and the only permanent resident.

His lifeless body was found last week along the bus stop Trafficway, where a car or semi — no one knew — struck him down.

HE HAD BEEN wandering down the four-lane thoroughfare southeast of the campus in recent days to play with some new friends. He liked that venture and he returned home too many.

The little honey-pooch had made the campus his home for nearly 12 years.

Student council reorganizes

The stuco "stars" defeated the faculty 16-12 in a benefit softball game for the United Way. The "stars" raised $75 in donations.

Nurse's club raises money

Students enrolled in the nursing program at Butler took time out of their busy schedules this year to prepare goodies several times for bake sales held by the Nursing Club as fund raising projects. The Club was working toward accumulating enough funds to send all the student nurses to a convention in Florida.

The Nursing Club promotes interest and professionalism in that chosen health field among the students.

Parties liven dorm

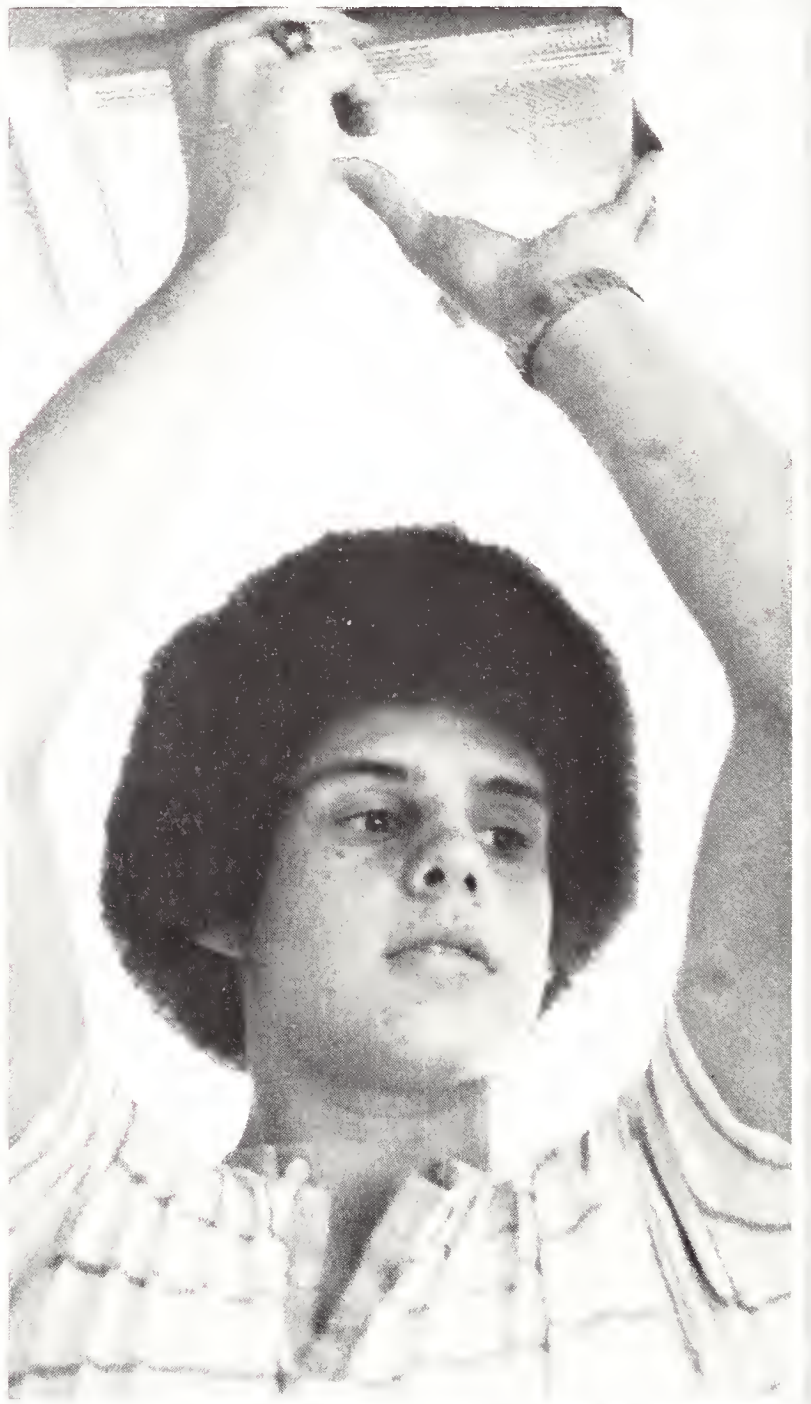

"There's no place like home," and to one-hundred and twelve men and women attending BCCC, home is the dorm.

There are ten students from out-of state and two foreign students living in the dorm.

Under the guidance of housemother Nita Moriarty, students enjoy parties, fiestas, and dances. She also provides counseling and assistance to dorm residents.

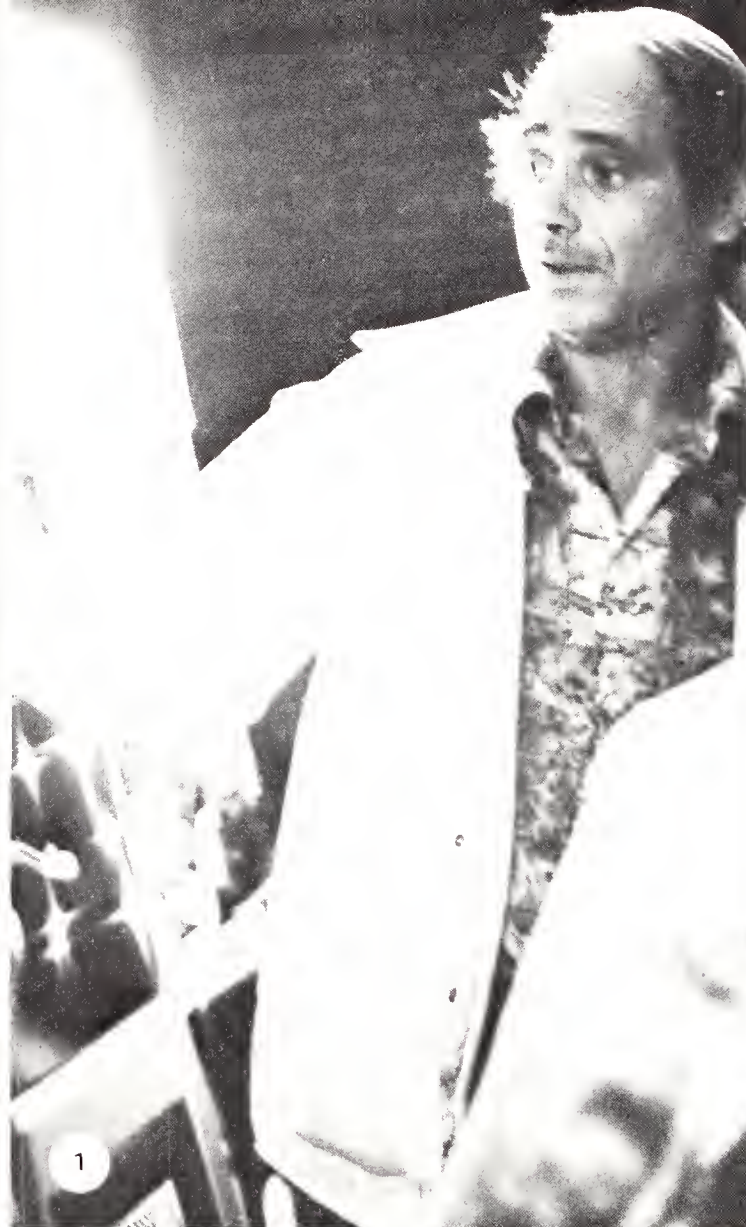

The student union provides dorm residents and all other students with activities such as pool, ping pong, and television. The cafeteria located in the student union supplies the students with three meals a day. Bookstore facilities are also housed in the student union

'The Lantern' leads way

THE LANTERN, the weekly newspaper published by BCCC students, has won high honors in both state and national contests. Each week its appearance on the campus is awaited with pleasure by most, and with trepidation by some since 'The Lantern' tells it "Like it is." Bill Bidwell is the adviser. Staff members shown include (1) Bidwell; (2) Mike Kettelman, editor both semesters; (3) Ric Dullea, news editor, first semester; (4) Tom Vernon, business manager, both semesters.

'Scapino' opens drama

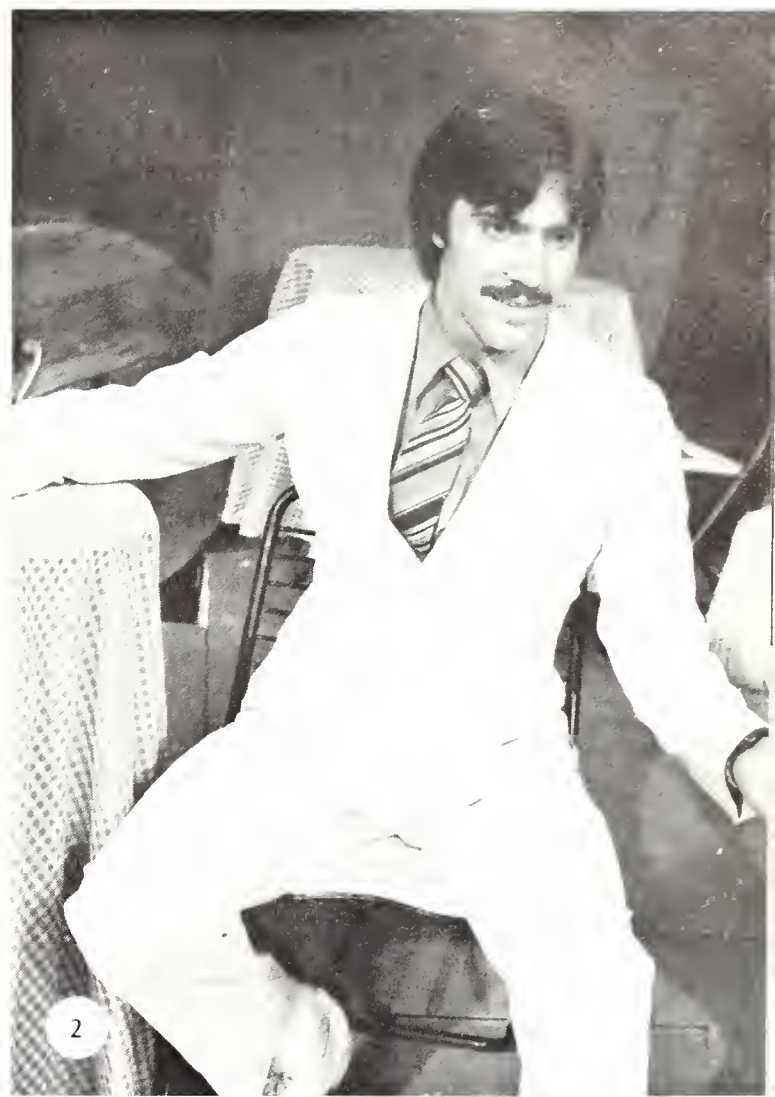

"Scapino" opened the fall dramatic season in October. The play was directed by Larry S. Patton, in his first year at Butler.

"Scapino is the story of how two wayward Italian youths employ a suave, handsome smooth-talker to help them escape their father's wrath for marrying without parental consent.

Albee hits successful

"Two Edward Albee plays, "Zoo Story," and "The American Dream," headed the second dramatic presentation directed by Larry Patton.

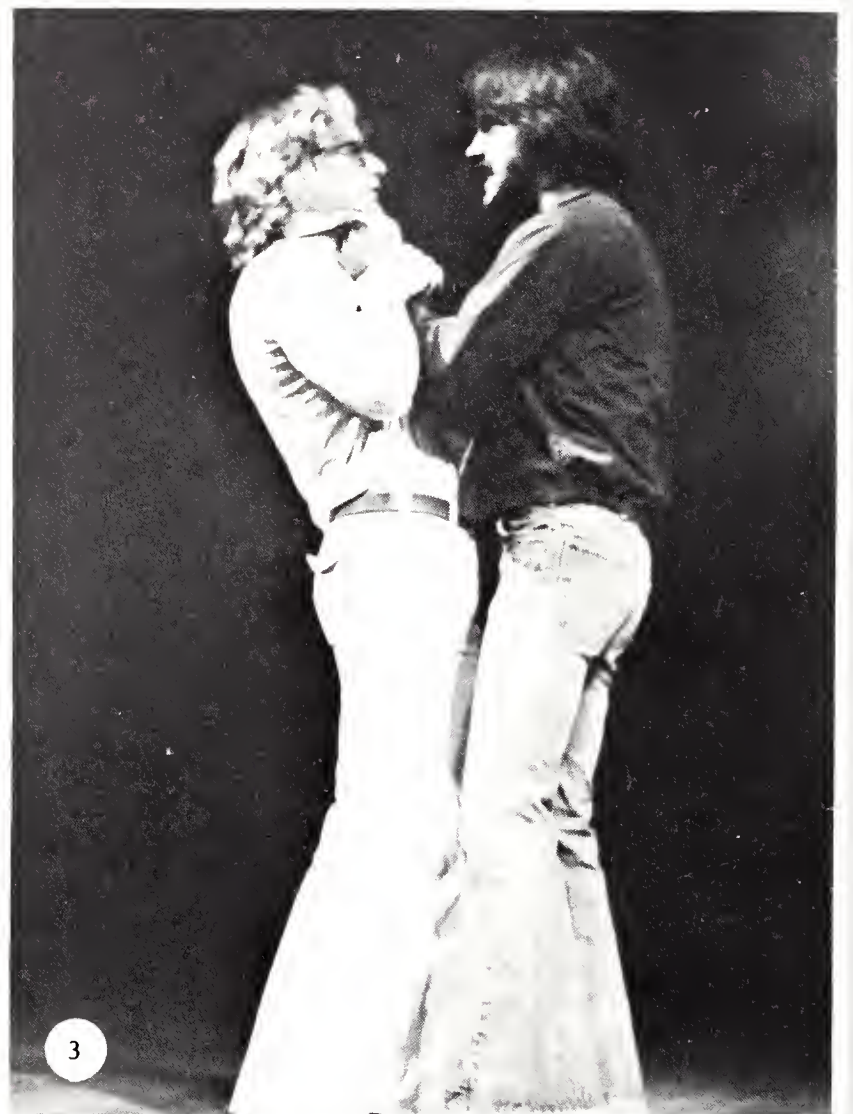

The encounter of a respected, young executive and an obnoxious transient on a park bench in Central Park is the setting of "Zoo Story."

"The American Dream" is a one-act abstract vaudeville sketch. The story typifies the well-to-do American middle class family in today's age of automation and mechanized men and women.

Freshman enrollment shows increase

Many freshmen made Butler their choice to begin their college careers, and enrollment was up about three per cent over last year.

With the "new blood" of the freshmen on campus came requests for more student involvement. As a result, two activities, Student Council and homecoming activities, were re-instituted this year after having been discontinued the previous year.

'Second season' brings new faces to view

Like television the college has its "second season" or second semester when some old faces disappear and some new faces appear or reappear.

Students whose photos appear in this section either were not on the campus first semester or did not get their photos taken first semester. (Check the index for easy location of all photos.)

'Special' students seek education

The "Special Students" section incorporates a wide range of students including those persons who are taking their first course in college to students who already have a degree.

None of the special students are full-time students at BCCC.

SPRING SUPPLEMENT

"The Grizzly"
1977

The Grizzly track and field team finished a respectable third in the Kansas Jayhawk Junior College Conference and third in the regionals this spring.

At the National Junior College Athletic Association Indoor meet in Detroit, the team earned a 23rd place ranking.

BCCCC's four mile relay team made an excellent showing at the WSU Relays by smashing the old record by 27 seconds in Cessna Stadium. John Lara, Dan Schleicher, Fred Tornado and Bill Myers covered the distance 17:33.11.

Grant Overstake made his mark in the decathlon by winning ninth in the National Junior College Athletic Association contest. He won fifth in the decathlon at the US Track and Field event at Wichita.

Women track stars win 2 invitationals

The women's track team for Butler consistently ranked high throughout the season in all its competition.

The team members took first place in their home meet, lost second by the toss of a coin at the Haskell Invitational, and never placed lower than third throughout the season as a team.

Rose Robidou placed fourth in the shot put at the regionals in Hutchinson which made her eligible for the nationals. The 440 relay team also qualified for the nationals. The women elected not to attend the nationals.

Mrs. Lou Clennan was the women's acting coach and she summarized the season: "We had a tremendous season. The women gave 100 per cent."

Intramurals attract many

Outreach serves wide community

The Adult Reading Academy and the Adult Resource Center, sponsored by BCCC and under the direction of Joy Choens and Mary Lou Stebbins have expanded their areas to eight counties this past year. The center part of the college's program for reaching out to the community offers day and night classes to all adults in the community interested in expanding their education.

BCCC also added a new program to its community services division. Co-sponsored by Midkap organization, a life-enrichment class, for people 60 and over, offers three presentations every Thursday. At the end of the semester thirty-six members were registered in the program. BCCC's continuing education program at McConnell AFB offers night school to servicemen, for which they receive college credits.

(1) A student gives a report in a class at McConnell AFB in the Outreach Program. (2) Irene Singer an Outreach instructor, conducts a class at McConnell AFB. (3) Bill Bidwell lectures to the life-enrichment class on the hobby of photography. (4) Mary Seymour, instructor at the Adult Resource Center assists a student with math. (5) Students work on reading at the Adult Reading Academy.

Journalists win highest honors

The Lantern newspaper and The Grizzly yearbook swept the top awards in the fifth annual Kansas Community College Journalism Contest this year.

The Lantern won eight first place awards and The Grizzly won first place overall in the yearbook division.

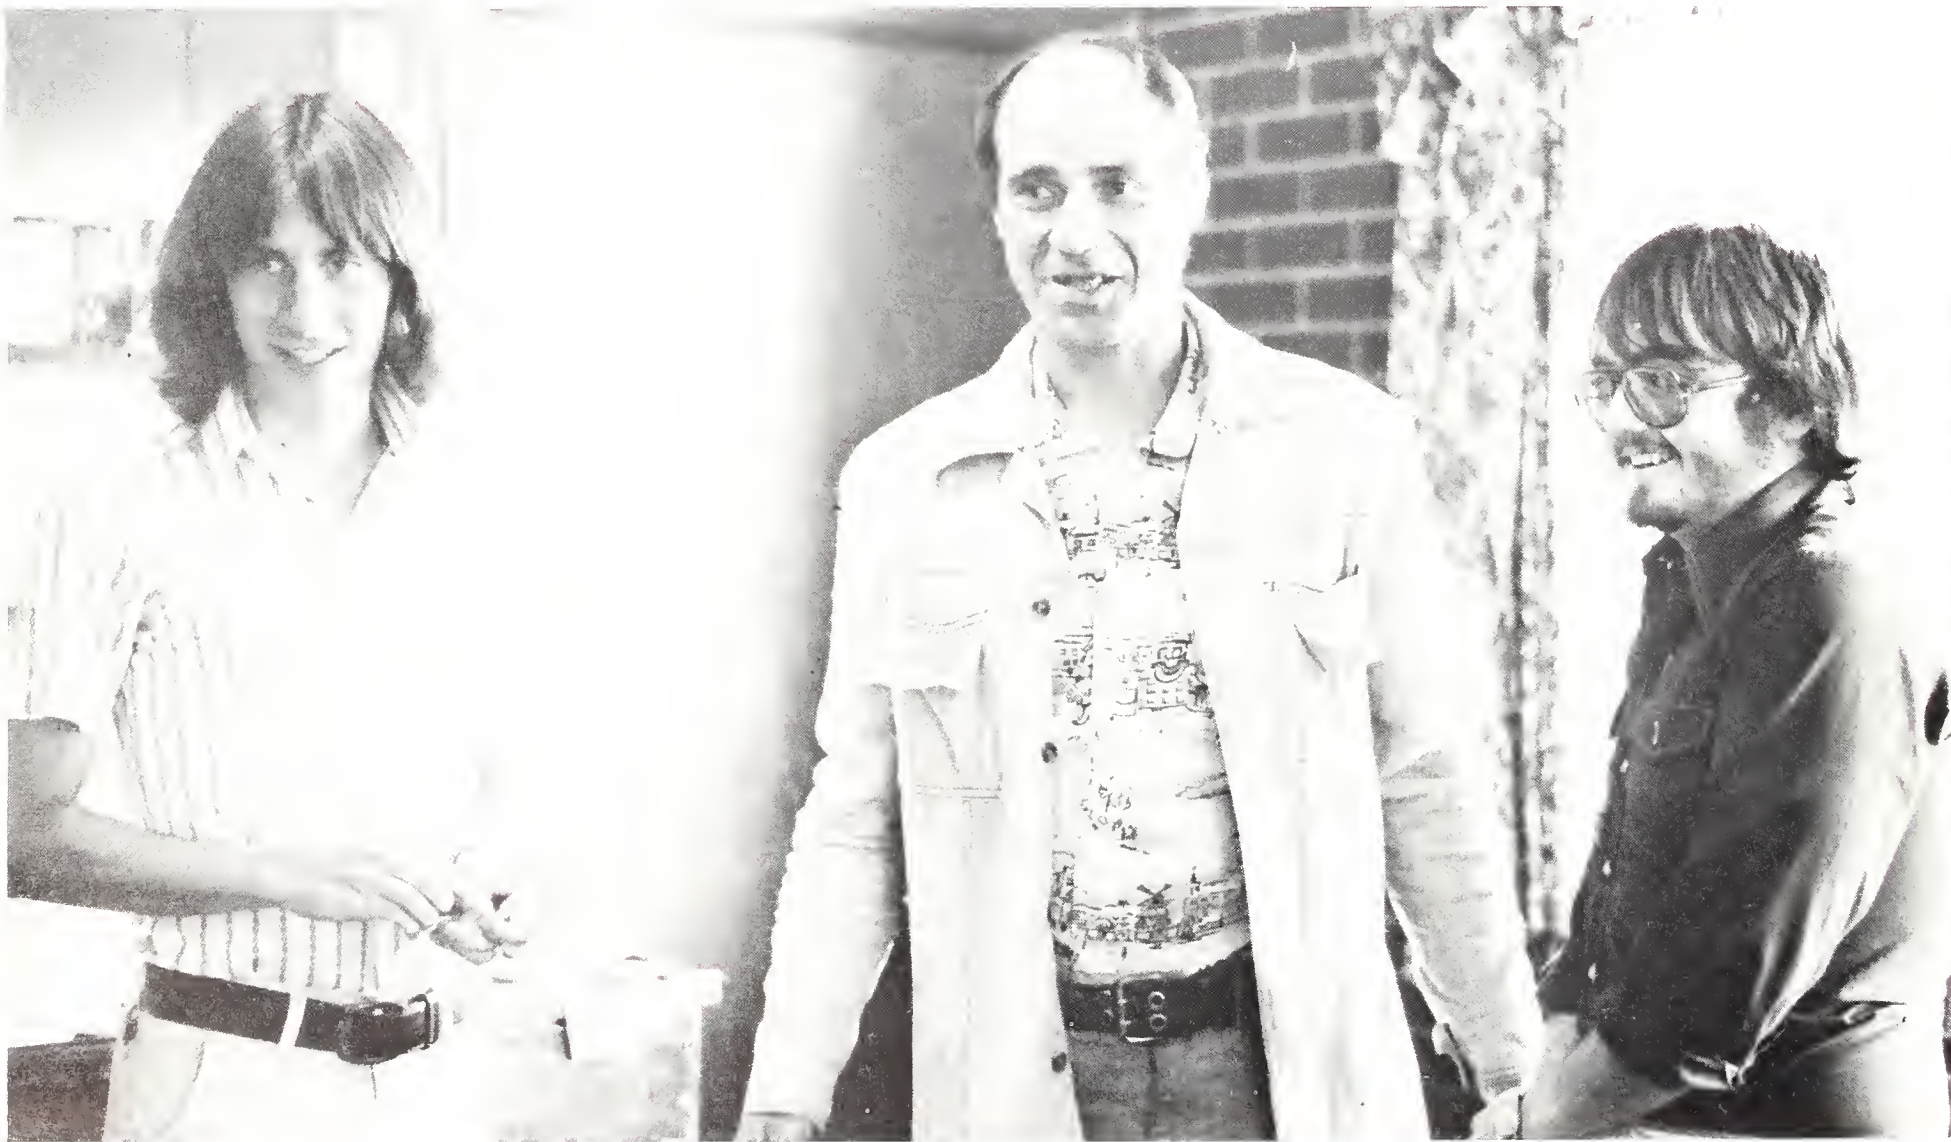

Students receiving first place awards included Bryan Clark, newswriting; Jeanette Carter, column writing; Mike Kettelman, sports writing; Grant Overstake, feature writing; Dave Gentzler, sports column writing; Bryan Clark, drawing. Overstake also won first in double truck layout and sports feature writing.

Second place in the state was won in several categories including Gentzler in sports writing; Kettelman in editorial writing; Fred Tornedan, sports writing; (Tornedan was also the staff artist for the first place Grizzly); Kettelman, poetry and critical review writing; The Lantern for page layout and makeup.

Third places were garnered by Thelma Gragg in editorial writing with Kettelman also third in editorial column writing.

Honors

Shirley Longfellow, business instructor, was named one of seven Master Teachers in the state. Her fellow instructors on the campus nominated her to compete in the contest sponsored by Emporia State University. Mrs. Longfellow demonstrated commitments to the students, to the public, to the profession, and to professional employment practices.

Jim Erickson, art student, was named "outstanding art student of the year" and received a $100 scholarship for achieving the honor. His fellow students and his instructors selected Erickson. The honor climaxed the annual student art exhibit held in the spring.

Students go outside

"Earth Day" was sponsored by the Ecology Club in the spring and the festivities were well attended. (President Heinrich points out an interesting exhibit.)

Campus Crusade for Christ has been well attended all year, but the last meeting was held outside and drew a record crowd. (Students sit in the sun and sing.)

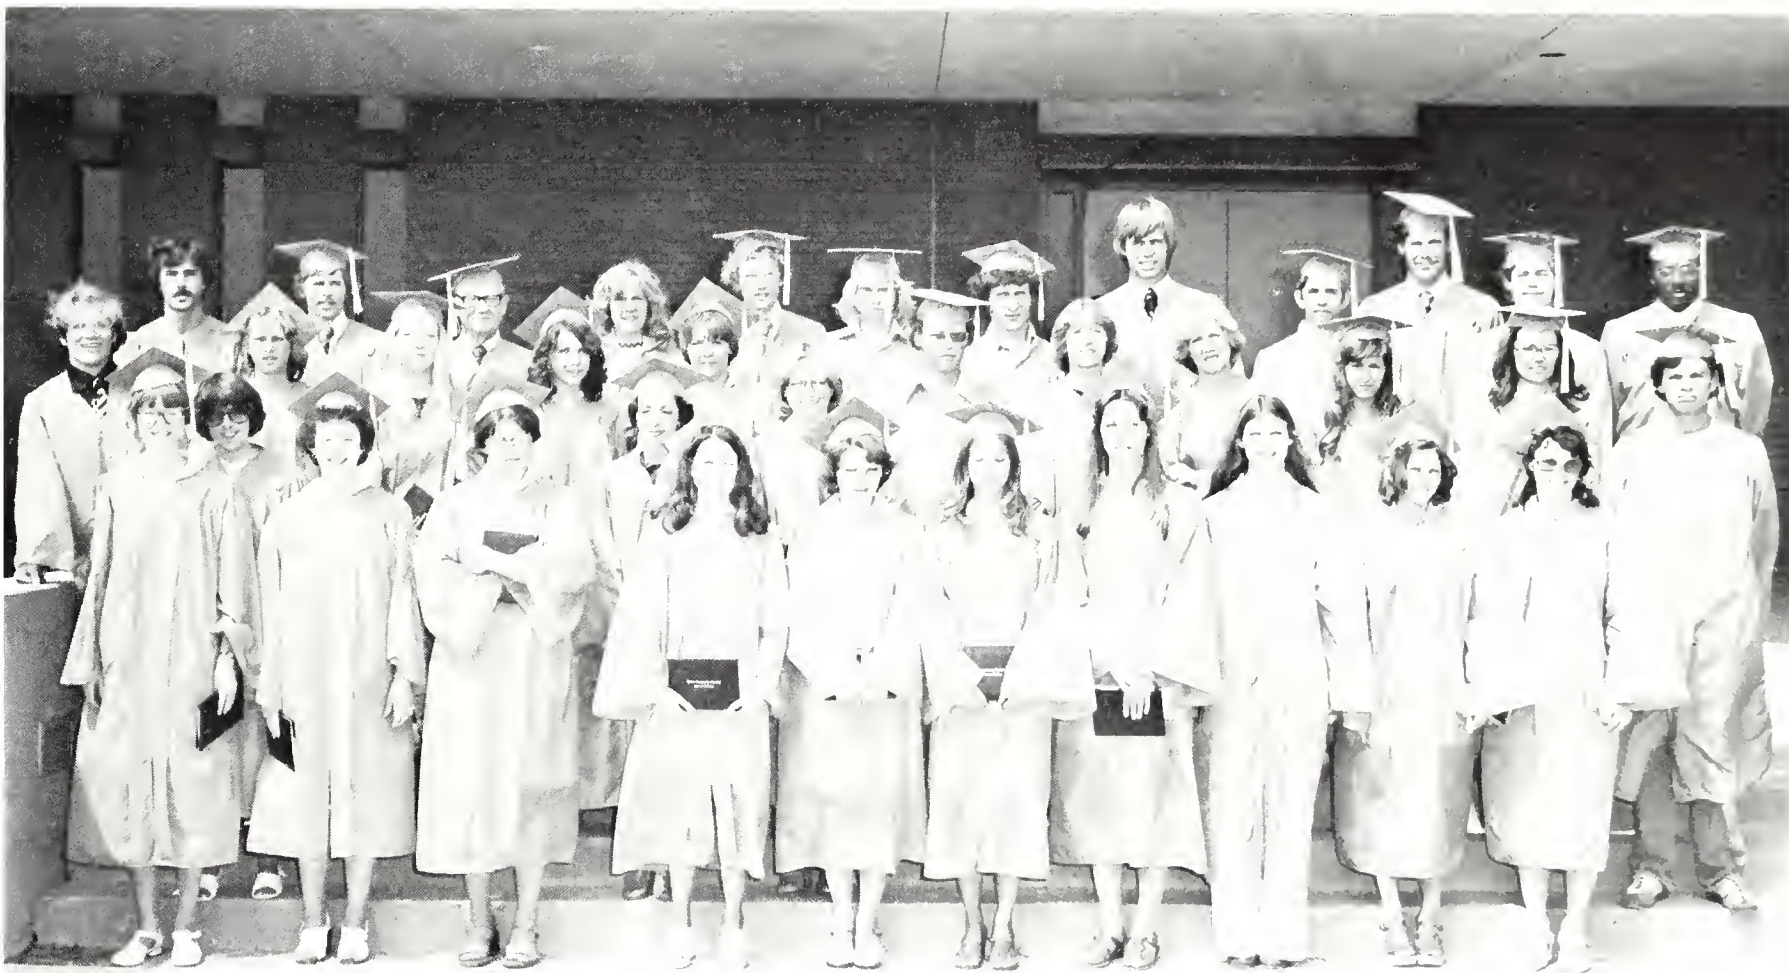

Honor nominees are listed

Forty-seven students were candidates for the Order of the Purple this spring which is approximately 25 per cent of the total graduating class.

Graduating sophomores must average a grade point of 3.25 in either academic or vocational or both subjects in order to be eligible for the honor.

The school honored the candidates at a banquet in May.

FULL ACADEMIC regalia for both graduates and faculty highlights the traditional processional across the campus. Graduates, friends and relatives then listen to the commencement address. The presentation of the degrees is the final rite. (Dr. Kassebaum presents Mike Cuenca his degree.)

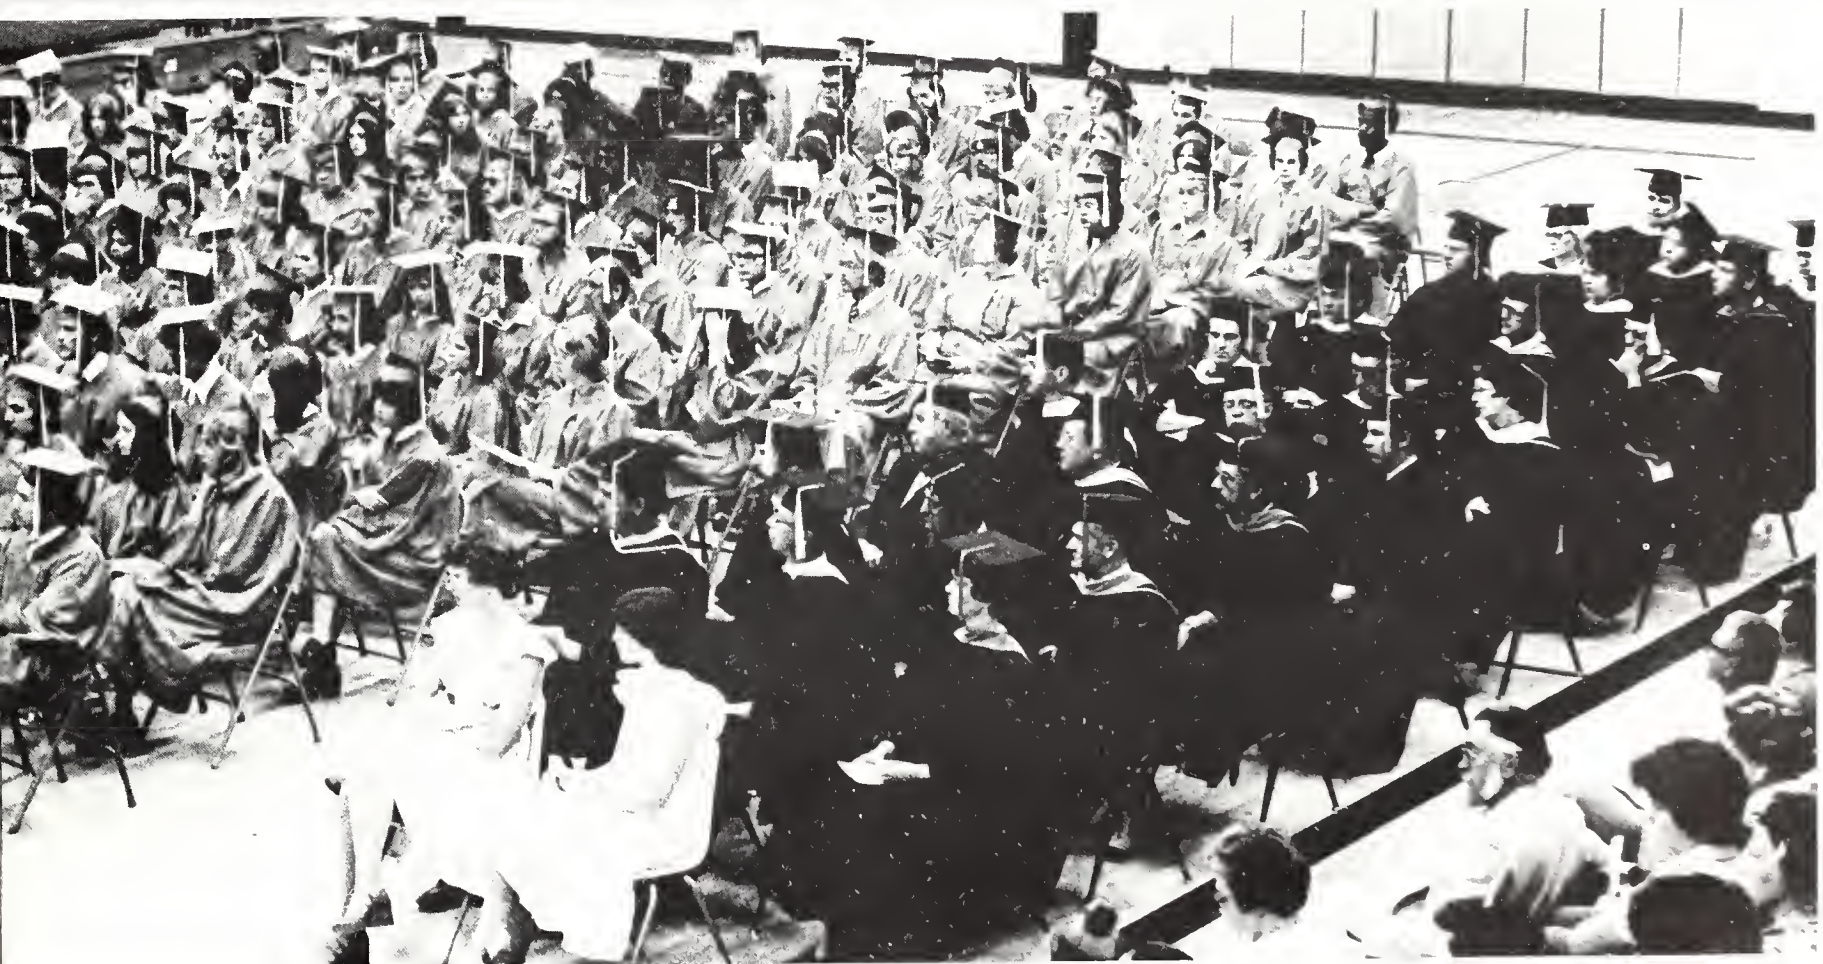

199 students receive degrees

Phillip Olsen, M.D., a graduate of BCCC and an El Dorado physician, gave the commencement address on May 25 at the ceremonies held on the campus.

Associate of Arts and Associate of Applied Science degrees were awarded to 199 students, a substantial increase over the number of graduates in 1976.

G. E. Kassebaum, M.D., chairman of the Board of Trustees, presented the degrees.
